Customer Reviews

This is book 7 of the series, which can be read individually or in any order, but I highly recommend starting with the first and reading in order. 4 sisters, their 2 cats and assorted family friends will quickly find a way into your hearts. The mysteries are intriguing and the sister's backgrounds and interactions with each other and others in town grow deeper with each book. The recipes included are yummy also.

I love this series of books! I love the family atmosphere and closeness of the main characters. The storylines keep you interested and the plot moves steadily. The mysteries are very intriguing. Small town camaraderie and close to the beach are right down my alley. I love the two cats who are part of the family and the solving of the mysteries!

Once again Author Whiting charms us with her unquestioned gift of fashioning paranormal events affecting the Roseland Family, their cats and friends. The action and mystery involved keeps you on edge until the very end. Reviewed by Frank Dibbell.

I gave five stars because I love the Sweet Cove Cozy Mystery series. The girls are delightful, Mr Finch is a joy, the boyfriends are great as is Mr Finch's girlfriend and the two cats are so special. I am about to start book number eight. I hope there will be more books to come.

So far I have read all 7 and look forward to the next one. Good, clean read that expresses the closeness between the sisters.

I love these stories. I have read all the books in the series so far, and I just purchased the next one, and can't wait to read it. I love the way they include the cats, it's really cute. I sure hope that there will be more to come.

Business is bustling at the B&B, the bake shop and candy store and jewelry store, all owned by the four Roseland sisters and Mr. Finch. It is October and the town has a Scarecrow contest as part of the annual festivities. For unknown reasons, their two cats Euclid and Circe seem unusually agitated, and Mr. Finch has a foreboding sense that they are all in danger. Ominously, five crudely made scarecrows and effigies of two cats are set on fire in the town common. Shortly afterwards, Tom and Jenna's house is broken into, and another house is set on fire. The police and family seek to find the perpetrators before worse things can happen. This is a clever and well written mystery with unusual twists and turns, filled with likeable main characters who always love and support each other.

It's Halloween and the common is filled with Scarecrows for the festival, but, there are seven not authorized and there begins this darker (not overly dark,) tale. Is this about Witchcraft? Or is someone after our Roseland sisters. This tale weaves a story connected back through the ages and makes you wonder just who is behind it all. I did not figure it out until the author told me and still I'm rethinking it. A darn good tale. There are strange characters and familiar characters that will surprise you. Sweet Cove has hidden depths. And, I just adore these Sisters and their Mr. Finch and their boyfriends/fiancÃ© etc. This is a keeper series. Off to the final volume that has been published...I pray there will be more.
