Alien Romance: Caged By The Alien: Scifi Alien Abduction Romance (Alien Romance, Alien Invasion Romance, BBW) (Celestial Mates Book 4)

Synopsis

Ambassador Penny Allyn is about to embark on the most important mission of her career- Representing humanity during First Contact with an alien species. A carefully selected team of experts have been chosen to follow a series of mysterious broadcasts across space to an alien planet and introduce humanity to a new intelligent species for the first time. But just as they reach the alien planet, a disaster no one could have anticipated throws Penny and her entire team into danger, and their mission becomes one of avoiding what seems to be an inevitable interstellar war. Aiten Tau, the mysterious and powerful commander of the alienâ™s military forces, is put in charge of Penny and her team, and takes particular interest in Penny. They struggle to understand each other in time to prevent a cosmic catastrophe, but their growing feelings for each other may only get in the way. Giving in to her passion for the Alien Commander could make Penny the vanguard of an interplanetary warâ | Adults Only!

Customer Reviews

This is the fourth book in this 'celestial mates' alien romance series, and it may be my favorite so far. I received a free copy of this book in exchange for my honest opinion. Aiten Tau is, like many males in the romance genre, very attractive and instantly attracted to the heroine, Penny. However,

I feel that he rises up where other's have failed. He feels very real, flawed, imperfect, but ultimately appealing. He's lovely. The author also did an incredible job with describing the alien races and making the galaxy feel very alive. I was immersed. I sat down and read it in one long straight shot. I do recommend it!

Great character development with interesting world building. I appreciated the high level of description and really enjoyed watching First Contact unfolding. The author did a great job of depicting the interactions between two characters from completely different societies, species, and worlds, and their relationship built in a believable way, despite all the apparent differences. Read this book: you'll enjoy the heroine and her hero and will be caught up in their story!

The world building in this romance is very good. I tend to really like science fiction romance novels where the aliens evolved from another animal. I especially like it when the aliens are humanoid aliens because the 9th Orb by Kaitlyn O'Connor is such a great book. The aliens here are descended from bees. Our hero is not exactly right according to their biology and that makes it possible for him to fall in love with our heroine. There is a good deal of culture clash that makes for a good story. My non love of the book has to do with pacing. The opening scene is really one of the last of the book and then everything is in flashback. This tends to slow down the action for me and also makes the book darker than it needs to be. However, the writing in this book is a huge improvement over the other books I have read by this writer and I look forward to her next book.

This author is very creative in her description of made up worlds. So far, I have enjoyed all of her books. All of this series has been unique in that the story lines and worlds have all been different, so it doesn't feel like you are reading the same story with different names as sometimes happens in series.

Really well done sci-fi romance. Much more Sci-fi than most. World building could have been a lot more detailed, but that was my only real complaint. Really enjoyed how unusual the alien actually was.

Some very interesting concepts. I guess this takes Bees or hive-kind to an entirely new level. I was intrigued by some references. I am so trying to prevent a spoiler alert. I can tell you that I started the book and thought it was dull. I got to the part just before the heroine is actually caged. and quit reading. I went back and there it was a very interesting concept. I was very glad it didn't turn ugly.
